*"I like New York in June.....How about you?
I like a Gershwin tune.....How about you?"*

I have just spent a wonderful week in New York, where summer does exist!
For those of you in similar climates to the UK, let's find solace in the sun damage we won't be exposing our skins to! (Melinda Higgins)

IHC Validation for Commercial Antibodies - Let us test your first 5 antibodies for free!

LaboSpace is a new Italian based company who have a fully equipped and government approved laboratory which offers a novel model that improves the reactivity of IHC Antibody testing, providing a tailored result to its commercial clients.

The service provides final result staining, along with the conditions and ready to publish images, which can be used as sales tools by its clients, along with a general staining protocol. This information can be added to its clients' website and databanks as proof of IHC Validation on the relevant antibodies.

With access to a complete collection of human and mouse pathological and non-pathological tissues, they are able to cover most of the needs that Antibody providers require.

To encourage Antibody companies to experience this new service, we are offering to test the first 5 antibodies for free, confident that you will be impressed enough to use LaboSpace as your choice for antibody IHC Validation in the future.

For further details on this service, including pricing, please contact: tim@pivotalscientific.com
